Dedication

Allen Bruehl is the director of the campus Academic Support Center. In the fall of 1992 Allen was hired to consolidate tutoring services on campus. At that time only certain departments offered tutoring. After a couple years of consolidating, Allen set up shop in a classroom in the Media Center with 15 tutors. That year they had 220 tutorials and did 454 sessions. Eventually the ASC ran out of space; students tutored each other in the hallway.

In the fall of 1994 Allen was granted permission to move the ASC into the d'Alzon Library. Allen welcomed the move because it put the center in an academic environment and encouraged first year students to use the library. Tutors work primarily with first and second year students to help them acclimate from high school to college.

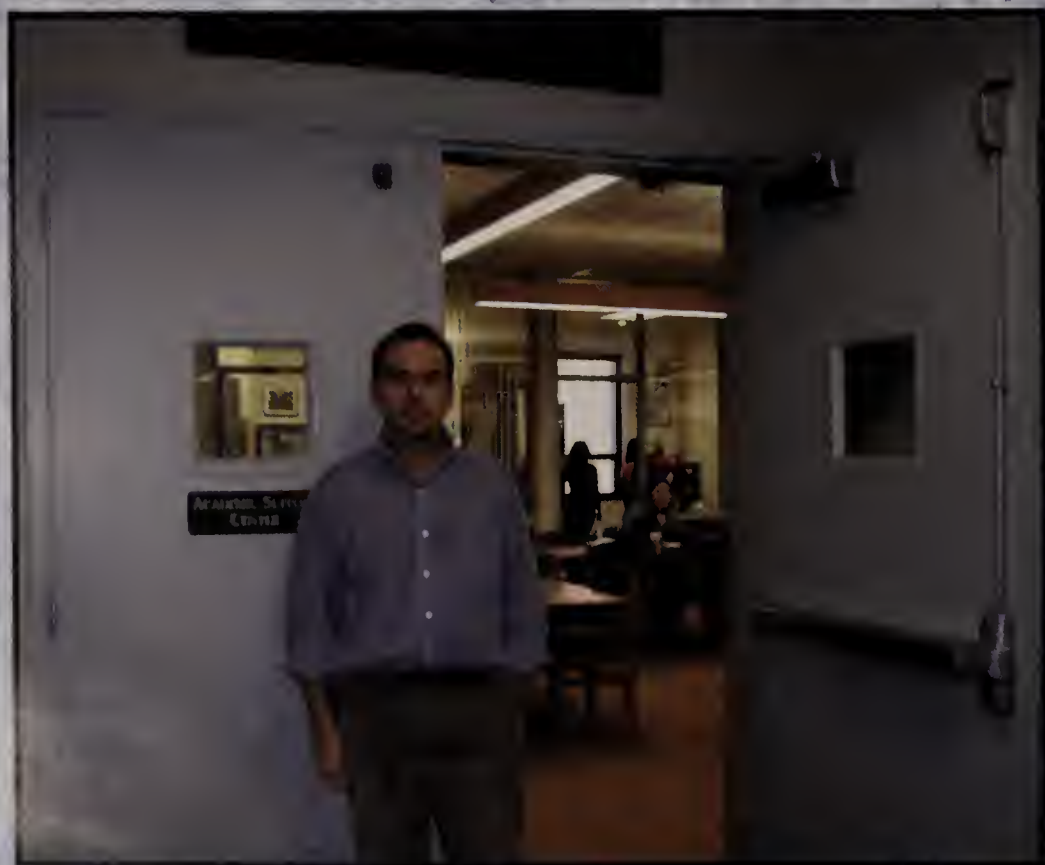

In his own words, Allen states that the ASC is a learning community on campus in which some of the college's top students come together and teach other students. This clearly portrays the Assumption College mission:

Learn, Achieve, Contribute.

Tutors give back to the college by contributing to other students and helping them achieve their academic potential.

Now, ten years later, Allen is still running the ASC. The center has grown to 43 tutors who tutored 800+ students and did 3000-3300 sessions in the 2001-2002 school year. Allen's other campus involvement includes the Disability Committee; Academic Policy Board; Alcohol and Drug Advisory Committee; Enrollment Services Committee; Public Relations Centennial Committee; he also chaired the Writing Emphasis Committee for nine years. On top of that, Allen is an advisor, a writing tutor, and works with students that have learning disabilities. On average, he has about 15 meetings a week with students.

Margaret Adamczyk

We would like to take this opportunity to thank Allen for everything he has done for the college. Chairing committees, running the ASC, and advising students individually, Allen works endlessly helping achieve their best. Thank you, Allen Bruehl, for everything you've done for us. We appreciate it.

"I would have to say that Allen is one of my favorite people here at Assumption. With a smile on his face, and a quick hello as he moves from one task to another, Allen has a way of making people feel at ease around him; and at home in the Academic Support Center. I know that when I graduate from Assumption this spring, I will miss Allen, his stories, his perspective on life, and his caring nature, but I also know that I will keep his outlook on life with me for the rest of my life."
 - Carrie DeBlois, Class of 2003

"Since I have known Allen, he has been a mentor, a teacher, and above all else, a friend. He was able to help me discover confidence in myself, which I never knew existed, and enabled me to grow into an independent adult, and for this I will always be thankful."

Over two thousand students are now enrolled at Assumption College. With the growing population, involvement on campus has increased. Besides attending classes, students frequent numerous events hosted by organizations on campus such as CAB and SGA. Campus life includes dances, concerts, community service, cookouts, and candlelight vigils.

Our lives also cross over Assumption's borders into the city. Our location gives students the option to enjoy malls, restaurants, clubs, and movie theaters. Some students even volunteer in the community through the Reach Out Center.

The roads we choose to travel during our four years here, no matter who we are, will not only shape us at this very moment, but who we will be in the future.

"Every day you may make progress. Every step may be fruitful. Yet there will stretch out before you an ever-lengthening, ever-ascending, ever-improving path. You know you will never get to the end of the journey. But this, so far from discouraging, only adds to the joy and glory of the climb."

Welcome Back Week

'September 11, 2001 will always be a fixed point in the life of America. The loss of so many lives left us to examine our own. Each of us was reminded that we are here only for a time, and these counted days should be filled with things that last and matter - love for our families, love for our neighbors, and for our country; gratitude for life and to the Giver of Life. We resolved a year ago to honor every person lost. We owe them remembrance and we owe them more. We owe them and their children and our own, the most enduring monument we can build. A world of liberty and security made possible by the way America leads, and by the way we Americans lead our lives.'

The Student Activities Office supports numerous different clubs and activities within the Assumption community. These activities include publications, community service opportunities, honor societies, and religious activities. Student Activities allows students to create their own organizations with the help of an advisor. Most groups are student run, such as the Le Provocateur newspaper. Whether a student wants to learn more about math outside of classes or expand his or her knowledge about other cultures, Assumption College offers ways in which these desires can be fulfilled. Hundreds of students participate in campus activities, thanks to the dedication and support shown by Joe Golia and Karen Manson, Director and Assistant Director of Student Activities.

"The future is not a result of choices among alternative paths, but a place that is created—created first in the mind and will, created next in activity. The future is not some place we are going to, but one we are creating. The paths are not to be found, but made, and the activity of making them changes both the maker and the destination."

- John Schaar

French Club

In keeping with the French traditions of Assumption College, the French Club fosters an awareness of the importance of French culture both on and off campus.

Math Club

The Math Club sponsors several types of recreational activities related to math.

Philosophy Club

The Philosophy Club is a group of students and faculty who meet to discuss topics of general philosophical interest outside the classroom. These meetings give students and faculty the opportunity to pursue issues that have emerged in one or more courses, and thereby, to develop the habit of thinking rigorously together.

Psychology Club

The Psychology Club offers Assumption students a chance to get more involved in its different fields. The main goal of the psychology club is to provide a place, outside the classroom, for students to share their interests and ideas on the various aspects of psychology while having the opportunity to see what the work place is really like.

Social and Rehabilitation Services Club

The Social Rehabilitation Services Club was created to foster research and study in the field. The club aims at increasing awareness of existing services in SRS by helping the Worcester community through projects and activities.

Peer Tutoring/ Academic Support Center

The purpose of the Peer Tutoring Club is to provide the opportunity for those interested in peer tutoring to practice and enhance their skills.

AC Band

The Assumption College Band is a 30-40 member ensemble comprised of students, faculty, and occasional community members that perform several concerts.

AC Chorale

The Assumption College Chorale is the College's concert choir. It performs concerts on campus, and goes on tour every 2 years.

Campus Activities Board

CAB sponsors many of the social, cultural, and general entertainment events on the campus, including the Holiday Ball, Parent/Alumni Weekend, and the Spring Concert.

Guys & Dolls was performed by students who major, minor, or have an interest in theatre. The cast presented the play in April 2003.

The Laramie Project

The Laramie Project was performed by students who major, minor, or have an interest in theatre. The cast presented the play, which is based on Matthew Shepard's life, in November 2003.

At the Crossroads

Maybe I am at the crossroads
And I don't know
Which road to take

Maybe I don't want to write anymore
My poetic license has expired

Maybe I don't want to think so much I am drowning in a deep sea of thoughts

Maybe I don't want to speak anymore
I'm paralyzed by broken language and empty words

Maybe I don't want to hear anymore
Crowded streets deafen my ears

Maybe I don't want to feel so much
So many emotions leave me numb

Maybe I don't know which way to go
I am lost with no directions

Or Maybe-
I don't want to be me anymore
Chasing runaway dreams that are not my own

Or Maybe-
This is what I needed all along The right words are the avenue to where it all began.

On Free Will

On the Shoreline,
The waves rising, kneeling-falling into their foamy end, the passengers abandoned on the kelp

On Sunday morning,
standing in line-
fingers piously overlapping one pace at a time toward salvation

On a Barstool, steadying your balance-staring through the round brown mirror
that never quite reflected light right.

In a Gauze-white, Craftmatic adjustable-keeping time with the beat drip-drops echo in the bedpan.

In a time share,
ceiling fan spinning-sweat condenses and beads on framed pictures of smiling grandkids.

In an old Camaro cigarette smoking-
cellphone dialtones sound yet again the pedal bites the floor.

We all find our place to die.

Light the Lamp

Adam Hardenbrook

Two molten eyes burn holes through a mask of bravado.
Undemeath, sweat soaks a face like stone
The moment of truth, the opportunity to make his mark only the finest equipment and years of intense training stand in his way

He moves with such grace, gliding smoothly over the glimmering sheet beneath him
Glass and boards become a blur as he approaches thousands of eyes never leaving his frame Muscles poised, eyes steady
Vulcanized rubber and wood his tools

Shall he go left, where his opponent wields the wooden wand?
Or go right, and face the iron glove, ready to crush his hopes and dreams?
The center may present his pathway to glory, or a wall of foam and leather.

Left, right, left, right
Back and forth, will he take his shot?
Thousands stare as one acts, one reacts
A swish of twine, a glare of red light, jubilation.
Good choice....

Altered State of Mind

Nicholas Bernier

Looking back
A smile, a tear
As they turned and went away
Some soon forever
I'd never been alone for more than a day
As I assimilate into a parade
Of faces who couldn't feel the same
No choice but to give myself away
To that which came to me
It spun around
In dream-like perceptions

From which took much to awaken Yet I felt a sense of Incompletion as I ran away
I bled water
And bottled my faith
In those around me
And perhaps gave myself
Away one too many times
Still I thirst
Every moment was my last

From staring at the ceiling
Or into a set of blue eyes
The desire to feel that once Again excites me
To create my paradise
To keep close by
As I drift out of
This altered state of mind.

When I began my theater career at Assumption College, I had a variety of goals in mind. First, I wanted to show everybody that came to see me that I loved theatre, and I love to perform in front of an audience. Secondly, I wanted to make my mark on the AC theatre department, and leave behind a legacy to go with my name. And finally, I wanted to hone my skills as an actor and graduate from Assumption as a better actor than I was when I arrived.

It is now May of 2003. My AC theatre career has spanned three years, three different directors, and seven productions. From center stage to backstage, I've done it all here at Assumption. But now the end has come, and it's time for me to take my final bow as the curtain lowers on my career here. I leave with invaluable experiences, a number of lifetime friendships, and memories that I will cherish forever. And while I never headlined a marquee, I have no doubt in my mind that I accomplished my goals.

When I arrived at Assumption in the Fall of 1999, I was already a veteran of 10 years of theater. Between repertory and high-school productions, I had 12-14 plays under my belt. And while Assumption offered a great chance to continue my acting career, I will admit that the facilities left little to be desired.

Reflections of an Amateur Thespian

My first audition took place in the Theater Workshop. It was small, cramped, and dark. Pipes and electrical wires ran all along the ceiling, and the constant rumblings of Taylor Dining Hall above us distracted the actors at every chance.

During my first show, Lend Me a Tenor, in the Fall of 2003, we rehearsed and performed in the Auditorium of La Maison. The stage was tiny, the backstage area was cluttered with old props, the acoustics were awful, and the lighting was, at best, fair. While some may balk at the idea of performing in that kind of space, I had no qualms about it. Being a veteran of a "gym-atorium" (think a gym with a stage at one end), I was used to poor acoustics and bad lighting. And besides, it's not the surroundings that make the show; it's the actors.

It was spring semester of sophomore year when I met Brian Tivnan. At the time, I don't think I quite understood the pressure he was under. He was filling in for the well-loved and well-respected "Doc" Maurice Plasse, while Doc fought cancer.

As we began rehearsing for the show that semester, One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest, it was obvious that those who had worked with Doc were having trouble adjusting to Brian's style. I found myself struggling. I'd never worked with a director that pushed me so much during rehearsals. He was meticulous, he was demanding, and he even drove a few of us insane.

However, if one was to look at the finished product, it's easy to see why Brian's methods are effective. Since that show, I've had the privilege of working with Brian on eight different projects. From classes to shows, he brings the same dedication and desire to everything he does. He's taught me the importance of honesty in acting and how to think quickly and react even quicker during improvisational comedy.

If it weren't for Brian Tivnan, I would have never discovered exactly what I was capable of as an actor. His talent as a director helped me cultivate my talent as a performer. I'd never worked with someone like him before, and I may never again. So I consider myself lucky to have worked with Brian, and Assumption College is lucky to have a man of his caliber teaching theatre.

As a senior, I was fortunate enough to participate in two firsts in Assumption theatre. In the Fall, we had the great honor of presenting The Laramie Project, a groundbreaking show focusing on the town of Laramie, Wyoming after the death of Mathew Shepard. The show consisted of eight actors

"Guys and Dolls was a tremendous success."

A Final Reflection

portraying over 60 characters. I had never faced a challenge like this before.

Each character I played had to have its own personality, its own identity. I had to learn each character's emotions, posture, accent, beliefs - everything about them. I found myself transforming from a liberal Unitarian minister, to a timid, closeted homosexual, and even to a foul-mouthed Hispanic convict, in a matter of minutes!

To top it off, I delivered quite possibly the most powerful monologue of the play, the speech from Mathew's father, Dennis Shepard. I can say without question, that this monologue is the toughest thing I've ever done as an actor. I've been fortunate enough never to experience the kind of tragic loss the Shepards suffered. So to try and portray Dennis' pain and grief, as and Nicely-Nicely, Steve and I were an inseparable duo both onstage and off. He and I were praised for our chemistry together, and I can assure you that the chemistry on stage was due to our friendship offstage. I had come full circle. I was finishing my career at Assumption sharing the spotlight with the same guy I'd begun it with. It couldn't have been more fitting.

Guys and Dolls was a tremendous success. We received rave reviews as we played to a packed house three nights in a row. I wouldn't trade the experience for anything. I loved every minute of my work on the musical, and as I hit the final note of "Sit Down, You're Rocking the Boat" on closing night, I realized that I had indeed achieved my goals.

I will always be proud of the work I've done with the AC theatre department. When AC presented its first musical, I was there. When he grants life to the man who murdered his son, was the ultimate challenge for me.

"I've been blessed to be a part of the Assumption College theatre arts program."

And while I like to think I pulled it off, it couldn't have been possible without the support of my classmates. The eight of us bonded like no cast I'd ever worked with before, as the story of Laramie became our own. They weren't just classmates; they were friends and companions. Together we laughed and cried, and together we put on a great show. To May, Denise, JD, Pat, Margherita, Nick and Megan... thank you.

This Spring brought a buzz to Assumption College that had never been there before. AC theatre presented Guys and Dolls, the first full-scale musical in the school's history. Up until then, my musical career had consisted of bit parts, and hardly any singing. The next thing I knew, I was given a major role as Nicely-Nicely Johnson, and my voice was prominent in several songs.

The show reunited me with Steve Piscitello, who I'd first worked with in Lend Me A Tenor. As Benny Southstreet improvisational competition debuted at AC, I was there. I've experienced a lifetime of memories here at Assumption, and I couldn't have done it without those who supported me along the way. My family doesn't get enough credit for my success; without their constant love and strong support, I'd be nothing. They are my heart and soul, and I'll love them forever.

I've been blessed to be part of the AC theatre arts program. I've worked with incredibly talented actors and actresses. I've had the best director a performer can ask for. And I've had the ability to showcase my talent to an appreciative audience. But this chapter of my life is over, and it's time for the curtain to fall. I know the theatre department will continue to grow and become even more popular, now that everyone knows what we're capable of.

While I may not get an encore on the Assumption stage, don't worry, because the show is far from over.

Spotlight: Senior START Retreat

"These Are The Days"

By Peggy Randall

On Valentine's Day, much love filled the air as seniors ventured off for this year's Senior Retreat. The Senior Retreat marked a milestone in the last semester at Assumption because it served as a reality check that yes, graduation was coming. Thirty-two brave seniors were welcomed by a team of 18 smiling, welcoming faces at Oakhurst Retreat Center in Whitinsville, MA.

The group was treated to four wonderful talks, which centered on our four years at Assumption. While listening to the sentimental and inspiring talks, seniors were encouraged to reflect on their own lives and experiences, as well as look back on our development and growth at Assumption. Everyone realized that we were not the people that we were when we arrived as freshmen. We have become much older somehow; when we weren't looking, we grew up.

We formed unbreakable bonds of friendship that no amount of time or distance will break, not even graduation. We were able to reflect on the past four years and see how our experiences have prepared us for our journeys after Assumption.

While many tears were shed and floods of emotions poured forth, the weekend was not all sad and meditative. The Entertainment Group performed a hilarious routine, which had everyone laughing. Entertainment took the group on a trip down memory lane as they dug up funny memories of our past, which ranged from Fraggie Rock, the Smurfs, and Nintendo, to New Kids on the Block, Michael Jackson, M.C. Hammer, and Boys II Men.

As rector of the retreat, I was able to observe how things went. I witnessed the Senior Class come together and form a community as they willingly participated in conversations and shared intimate thoughts and stories. I watched as they supported one another and solidified the bonds of companionship which made our community.

Looking back over the past four years has taught us many things. The most important is that we must now look forward to the surprises and adventures that lay ahead.

"These are the days you'll remember, when May is rushing over you with desire to be part of the miracles you see in every hour. You'll know it's true that you are blessed and lucky. It's true you are touched by something that will grow and bloom in you."

Spring Break Immersion in D.C. provided students with the opportunity to volunteer in an orphanage and to help tutor inner city children during Spring Break.

Spring Break Immersion - West Philly, Pennsylvania

START I - Fall 2003

The Fall START I retreat focuses on issues of community, identity, commitment and faith. It was planned and carried out by students themselves and includes presentations, small group discussions, and group activities.

START I - Spring 2003

During the START I Spring Retreat, students were able to discuss issues that involved the community, their identities, etc. They were given opportunities to interact with their peers and to reflect on their own lives individually.

START II

After attending a START I Retreat, each student can attend START II. The retreat provides time for reflecting on your relationships with God, self, and others.

In 1912, Assumption's competitive spirit was born when the first baseball team was formed on campus. Thousands of homeruns later, the college has developed several other athletic departments, including basketball, football, and hockey. Many former Assumption players have gone on to professional careers, including baseball Hall of Famers Jesse Burkett and Rube Marquard.

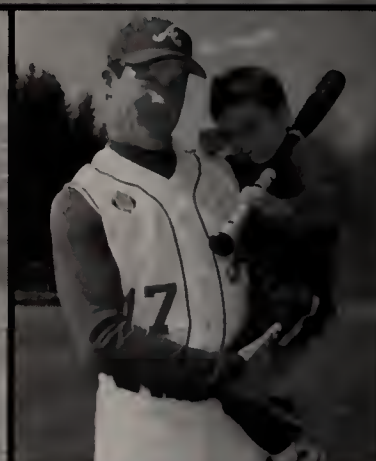

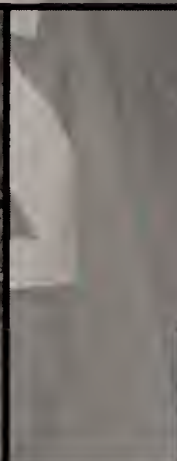

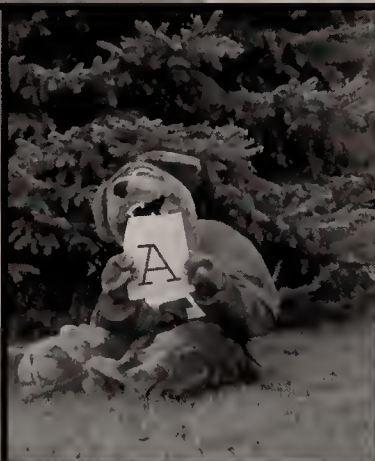

In 1933, Assumption announced its mascot, the Greyhound, after several years of only being known as its colors: blue and white. The Greyhound originated from an actual greyhound named Pierre. With vigorous speed and compassion, our players have reflected the beauty and grace of this breed.

Games have become a regular pastime for many students and staff members. It is not hard to miss regulars, such as Librarian Larry Spongberg, rooting on our dedicated football team. Their coaches and teammates will miss the players that leave this year, but they will have achieved a legacy that will hopefully live on for years to come.

"Our way is not soft grass, it's a mountain path with lots of rocks. But it goes upward, forward, toward the sun" - Ruth Westheimer.

As a liberal arts college, Assumption prides itself on giving students a well-rounded education. Students of all grades can choose to take classes in Philosophy, Religion, Social Science, English, Math, Music, Art, and Foreign Language, to name a few.

Though choosing a major is an important part of each student's college career, graduates of Assumption leave feeling well-balanced and find themselves better prepared for open-minded thinking in the real world. This comes not only from the classes they choose to advance their studies, but also from the dedication of their advisors, professors, Student Life, and Administration. The Faculty and Staff here at Assumption taught us how to learn, achieve, and contribute.

"There are countless ways of achieving greatness, but any road to achieving one's maximum potential must be built on a bedrock of respect for the individual, a commitment to excellence, and a rejection of mediocrity."

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

To the Graduates,

Congratulations to the men and women of the Class of 2003. Those of us in the Office of the President have come to know enough of you individually to engender a very high level of confidence and pride in your entire class. As new alumni of Assumption College, you join a tradition, which is one hundred years strong. Assumption College's theme of Learn.Achieve.Contribute and our motto of Until Christ Be Formed In You are now represented daily to the wider world by your role modeling of competence, compassion, and character. Everywhere I go, people tell me that our alumni are good neighbors, involved citizens in their communities, faith-based individuals, and just nice people to be around. Welcome to the club.

God Speed Class of 2003,

Tom Plough, President
Professor of Leadership

IN LOVING MEMORY

MIGUEL & DORA FLORES

There is sacredness in tears... They speak more eloquently than ten thousand tongues. They are messengers of overwhelming grief... and unspeakable love.

- Washington Irving

Before coming to the United States, Dora and Miguel met and fell in love in Nejapa, El Salvador. While in El Salvador, Dora worked as a seamstress and Miguel worked on the family farm. They came to the United States to escape the political turmoil that existed in El Salvador back in the late 1980s and 1990s. In March of 1995, both Dora and Miguel found employment at Assumption College.

For many years, Dora cleaned Founders Hall offices, while Miguel maintained Kennedy Hall. When Sodexo assumed the maintenance contract, Dora, Miguel, and others were reassigned and formed a cleaning group that maintained La Maison Francais, Kennedy Hall, and Founders Hall.

Whether at work or at home, they always shared as much time together as possible, including their break at 3:00 a.m., banking, grocery shopping,

Wind Beneath My Wings Bette Midler

It must have been cold there in my shadow, to never have sunlight on your face.
You were content to let me shine, that's your way.
You always walked a step behind.

So I was the one with all the glory,
while you were the one with all the strength,
A beautiful face without a name for so long.
A beautiful smile to hide the pain.

Did you ever know that you're my hero,
and everything I would like to be?
I can fly higher than an eagle,
for you are the wind beneath my wings.

It might have appeared to go unnoticed,
but I've got it all here in my heart.
I want you to know I know the truth, of course I know it.
I would be nothing without you.

Did you ever know that you're my hero?
You're everything I wish I could be.
I could fly higher than an eagle,
for you are the wind beneath my wings.

Did I ever tell you you're my hero?
You're everything, everything I wish I could be.
Oh, and I, I could fly higher than an eagle,
for you are the wind beneath my wings,
'cause you are the wind beneath my wings.

Oh, the wind beneath my wings.
You, you, you, you are the wind beneath my wings.
Fly, fly, fly away. You let me fly so high.
Oh, you, you, you, the wind beneath my wings.
Oh, you, you, you, the wind beneath my wings.

Fly, fly, fly high against the sky,
so high I almost touch the sky.
Thank you, thank you,
thank God for you, the wind beneath my wings.

cooking, and even household chores were always done together. Dora enrolled in English as a Second Language (ESL) classes and often practiced her quickly improving English with co-workers. She applied for and achieved United States citizenship in 2001.

Over the years, they became financially secure and sent weekly gifts of money to help their family back in El Salvador, while they saved up for a down payment on a home. Four years ago, they purchased a one family home in Grafton Street area. Dora and Miguel recently welcomed the arrival of Dora's parents to the United States when the tragic accident cut short both their lives on March 22, 2003.

The AC community, especially their co-workers, whose lives were impacted by them daily, deeply mourn the loss of these two wonderful people.

Sincerely,
Aaron Powell

AC Loses Hard-Working Pair To Fatal Car Crash

Le Provocateur, Volume 39, Number 9

By Alexis Kourkoulis

The Assumption College community mourned the loss of two custodial workers last month. Miguel Flores, 49, and his wife, Dora Aquino Flores, 39, were killed in a car accident on Saturday, March 22nd.

"They were hard-working, honest, and dedicated employees for the college. They will both be missed," said Custodial Manager Roger LeBlanc.

Calling hours were held at the Callahan Brothers Funeral Home on Thursday, March 27th and a funeral mass was held the following day at Our Lady of Fatima Church in Worcester.

According to an article in the March 28th edition of the Worcester Telegram & Gazette, Mr. and Mrs. Flores were driving toward their home that afternoon when a speeding black Suburban crashed into their Toyota Camry.

The Suburban, which was allegedly stolen from Diamond Chevrolet, struck the Flores' vehicle at Dorchester and Providence Street in Worcester at 1:30 p.m. The speeding SUV pushed their car 100 feet down the street.

Mr. Flores was pronounced dead at the scene and Mrs. Flores died the next day in St. Vincent's Hospital at Worcester Medical Center. Mrs. Flores' father, Samuel Aquino, was in the backseat of the car at the time of the accident. He was sent to UMass Memorial Medical Center with critical injuries but has since recovered.

The man driving the Suburban, Norman Hebert Jr., 54, was charged with vehicular homicide, driving under the influence of drugs, and also several traffic violations. He is being held on $100,000 cash bail.

Kyle K. Lahair, 43, was a passenger in the Suburban that struck and killed the couple. He was charged with possession of a hypodermic needle and is being held on $10,000 cash bail.

The two men were arraigned from their hospital beds at UMass Memorial Medical Center on Tuesday, March 25th where they were under close police watch. They both pleaded not guilty to the charges and the case was continued on April 7th.

Mr. and Mrs. Flores worked for Assumption College Building & Grounds, doing custodial work for just over eight years. Mr. Flores primarily worked in Founders Hall and Mrs. Flores in the Kennedy Building, keeping our classrooms and offices clean. They both worked the third shift Sunday through Thursday and always spent their time off together, according to the family.

They came to the United States in the early 1980s from Nejapa, El Salvador. They lived on 3 Acton Street in Worcester, a city in which approximately 2,000 Salvadoran families have made their home, according to the Worcester T&G. The good-hearted couple recently brought a friend to the States from El Salvador and let her live in their home.

Sister Cathleen Toomey, the Director of Campus Ministry, did not know Mr. & Mrs. Flores personally, but spent a few hours with some of their fellow employees of Buildings & Grounds shortly after their death.

"It was clear from meeting with [their colleagues] that these people were special. They were caring and loving," she said.

When first year students leave home, they come to a community of new friends, live in a dorm room with complete strangers, and choose courses that will shape their future careers. And Underclassmen make many other unforgettable memories during their three years as Underclassmen at Assumption. Throughout each year, the Underclassmen have the opportunity to attend a variety of events, such as a Halloween Dance, the Junior Canada Trip, Pup Cup Weekend, and even travel aboard for Spring Break. The next step in their lives will be to move on into the last year of their college careers, but until then Assumption will give them ways to bond as a student body.

"What sunshine is to flowers, smiles are to humanity. These are but trifles, to be sure; but, scattered along life's pathway, the good they can do is inconceivable."

- Joseph Addison

The Assumption College Annual Halloween Dance was held in the Hagan Campus Center. Many students who dressed in a variety of costumes such as angels, cowgirls, nerds, and hippies. The DJ played a selection of songs ranging from The Monster Mash to Eminem. The dance floor filled quickly with eager students ready to boogie down. The ghostly gala was a hit!

MONTREAL

-ALL DAY AND ALL NIGHT-

On the weekend of November 1-3, 2003, over 250 members of the Junior Class ventured to Montreal, to visit our neighbors from the North. The most challenging part of the trip was trying to figure out Canadian Money. The students went sight-seeing and shopping. More importantly, they had a great time hanging out with each other. At night the students decided to see what Canada night-life was all about. While some students tried their luck at the local casino, others decided to visit various bars and meet a lot of interesting people. Many students felt this trip was a great way for the class to bond.

Bonjour Cannes

Under the supervision of the Madame Howe and Proffesseur Zielonka, 10 students embarked on an unforgettable spring break to the South of France. They stayed at the Assumptionist house in Cannes.

While in France, they visited Nice for the Mardi Gras Festival. The day began with a parade of floats and ended with fireworks over the Mediterranean. Throughout the day, people were attacked with silly string. Other exciting highlights of the trip included a visit to the perfume factory in Grasse and a trip to the Casino in Monaco. The group had a wonderful time and learned quite a bit about French culture.

START Retreat

Spring 2003

"Aint No Mountain High Enough"

On March 28th, a group of brave students who did not know each other (at the time) met in the lobby of the LLC in preparation for one of the most inspirational experiences of their life. Some of the students were excited, energetic, and looked forward to the mysterious weekend that was ahead of them. Others became hesitant and scared about what they had gotten themselves into and were ready to turn back. Regardless of what each student was feeling, by the end of the weekend everyone was extremely glad that they decided to attend the START I Retreat.

The weekend was lead by a group of very talented students who had previously attended START retreats. They provided an ear to listen, a shoulder to cry on, and a great sense of energy which kept the weekend going. Through a series of different activities, each retreator gained a greater sense of their true identity. The weekend provided a great opportunity not only to find a lot out about oneself, but also to become great friends with everyone who attended.

At the end of the retreat each retreator left with a whole new group of friends, and became a part of a growing community here at Assumption. The START community consists of a group of students who are always there for each other. They prove that "There Aint' No Mountain High Enough." Just reach out and there will always be someone there to listen, to lend a helping hand, or to provide a smile when you are having a bad day.

Junior Craze

May 3, 2003

The beautiful, sunny Saturday marked the beginning of a fun, bonding time for the Junior class. Matt Perfetuo, Junior Class President, noted "it was a perfect day, the weather was awesome" unlike what was previously predicted to be a gloomy day. Pedro pitched the whole game leading the Sox's to a whopping win of 9-1 over the Minnesota Twins.

Classmates were seated among other fans in the bleacher section of the stadium. The energetic crowd, stadium quality food, and a well played game added to a different kind of bonding then most people normally have with roommates and friends.

Perfetuo noted that the game's atmosphere, as well as Jillian's after the game, provided a great environment for interaction among classmates who might not have known each other previously.

The group moved across the street to the three story Jillian's after the game where a private, dim lit, room was reserved for two hours. The chill atmosphere allowed for interactions among pool sharks and beginners alike. Some classmates ate and talked with one another while still enjoying the atmosphere and company of their peers. While some people spent the remainder of the night hanging out in Jillian's, others explored other areas of the city.

This Junior Class trip is the lead in to many good times that will be had by the Class of 2004 as we journey into our Senior year. Perfetuo noted he, "hoped everyone had enjoyed themselves on the trip. I look forward to a great Senior year with everyone." Nicely put. If the past two trips are any indication of what is to come next year then it will be an eventful year.

That 70's Cup

This years Pup Cup, always a popular event here at AC, kicked off the last weekend before finals with a "That 70's Cup" theme. As always, it featured competition between the Freshman and Sophomore classes. The dorms were divided into three groups with Desautels and Alumni Halls competing together, Worcester and the LLC, and Salisbury, Nault, and B and C dorms together. "Pup Cup this year was worked on by all the class officers and senators from the Freshman and Sophomore class and in particular there were chairs for various parts of the event", said Sophomore class Senator Frank Woods.

The weekends festivities began Friday night with AC's own Sunny with band Gruv Factory performing in Laska Gymnasium. "Everyone who saw them loved them" said Sophomore Senator Lindsay Shaheen. Following their performance was the annual Mr. and Mrs. AC competition hosted by James Lambert and Meghan Montani. Many of AC's finest freshman and sophomores displayed their summer wear and special talents. Sophomore Sarah Morello thought, "Mr. and Mrs. AC was so much fun, seeing everyone showing of their talents was great". The two eventual winners, Sophomores Brian Robinson and Andrea Burns showed off their musical abilities with Brian rapping for the judges, and Andrea singing (You Make Me Feel Like) A Natural Woman by Aretha Franklin.

The competing began Saturday at Taylor brunch in food games like passing an orange from neck to neck. The dorms which then competed all day Saturday in three co-ed sports, three on three basketball, and six on six volleyball and indoor soccer. Freshman Kelly Beeman said, "I played volleyball with a bunch of the friends I've made this year, it was so much fun".

The beautiful weather greeted those students who partied on the Hagan lawn from 1:30-5:00. A D.J. played some favorite tunes as students 'boxed' each other in the inflatable boxing ring, climbed on the rock climbing wall, or got wet on the slip and slide. "My roommate and I had a great time boxing each other in the inflatable ring, and slipping and sliding on such a nice day" said Freshman Kelly Beeman. After the day of games, students feasted on some of their favorite summer fare at the barbeque.

The Assumption community then got a taste of "I Bet You Will" the dare game from MTV. Sophomore Jen Looney said, "The game was crazy, I couldn't believe all the things people were willing to do, like drink Tabasco sauce and clam juice". Lindsay Shaheen stated, "This was our first time we did I Bet You Will and we had an awesome turnout". That night, "Saturday Night Fever" hit AC as everyone was able to break out their favorite 70's dance moves. Sophomore Megan Chenialle, "loved dancing to all the great disco tunes from the 70's". Senator Frank Woods wanted to be sure to thank "Angela Freitas who was our advisor, Meghan Montani and James Lambert who hosted Mr. and Mrs. AC, and to the Assumption faculty in general for helping our classes host such a successful and entertaining day".

Back in the day...

August 1999 - May 2003

"It's the best feeling in the world when you meet new friends that you can't stand to be without. That you constantly want to impress to make them like you even more. They make you hope everyday that they won't leave you. Until that day when they actually do, and you're lost without them. You can't think about anything else, but when you're going to see them again."

"True friendship starts the moment one person says to another, 'What? You too? I thought I was the only one!'"

- Unknown

"Never explain yourself. Your friends don't need it and your enemies won't believe it."

- Belgicia Howell

"Time, don't let it slip away, raise your drinking glass.
Here's to yesterday."

-Aerosmith

"We all take different paths in life, but no matter where we go, we take a little of each other everywhere." -Tim McGraw

"Don't be dismayed at goodbyes. A farewell is before you can meet again. And meeting again after a moment or a lifetime is certain for those who are friends." -Richard Bach

Senior

What will you leave the incoming class of 2007?

Advice: Don't rush your college years because you will miss them when they are gone.

A snowplow to shovel some of the sidewalks.

Taylor food.

Windchills of -19 degrees.

My name etched on the bathroom stall door in Salisbury Hall.

Horrible parking.

Icy sidewalks.

What is your favorite pastime?

Sleeping.

Being with friends.

Playing sports.

Watching soccer games.

Going on missions.

Eating.

Getting coffee at the Java Hut.

Going to wrestling shows.

Throwing things at people out the third floor window.

Going to concerts.

Watching reality TV.

Getting 6 crazy, yeow!

Going to the gym.

Volunteering.

Hanging out at the Boynton.

Freshman football.

Clubbing.

Survey

Who is your favorite professor?

Here are the winners! Sr. Nuala Cotter, Jennifer Gregorski, and Gene Diodati.

Honorable mentions: Professors O'Shea, Aspinall, Sorenson, Tauer, Schandel, Sullivan, Carlin, Cotellese, Knoles, Harvey, Stutz, and Fr. Barry.

Sr. Nuala Cotter: I've enjoyed teaching and getting to know members of the class of 2003. All the best!

"She is the most intelligent and witty professor at Assumption."

Jennifer Gregorski: The class of 2003 is the first class in which students whom I have taught will graduate. It means a lot to me to be remembered by them. I wish them well in their future endeavours and remind them to enjoy life as they enter their chosen professions.

"She is cute and nice!" "She really understands her students and she's a sweetheart!"

Gene Diodati: This is the best class yet.

"He is the most fair and knowledgeable professor at Assumption."

"He is an amazing professor- a good listener and a great person."

What is your favorite meal at Taylor?

Cheese quesadilla
Chicken parmesan
Pesto sauce with tri-color tortellini
Tacos
Anything without barbeque tofu
BLT
Chicken florentine
Pizza
Chicken Patties

Pasta and alfredo sauce
Chicken fingers and fries
Macaroni and cheese
Ice cream
Grilled chicken salad
Turkey dinner
Chicken enchiladas
Pretzels
Corn Chowder

What is your favorite off- campus hangout?

Leitrim's-It's where everyone goes.

Dollar drafts and good people.

Friends are always there.

It's a good time.

Thats where everyone knows your name.

Mahoney's- You can chill there.

Gillette Stadium

Tatnuck Bookseller - Nice atmosphere.

WPI Student Center - Good food.

Panera Bread - They have awesome food.

The Boynton - Wings!

Peppercorns - Good eats, good drinks.

Bijou Cinema - Great food and films.

Solomon Pond Mall

Sh'Booms- The place we all have been, but won't admit to it.

What is your favorite class?

Psychology of Development - It relates to real life.

Music Fundamentals - It was so easy!

Statistics - Fun!

Quantitative Methods - I've never laughed so hard in my life!

Literary Foundations of the West - Great professor and great group of students.

Real Analysis - It was a small class and I got to know everyone well.

God and the Philosophers- The professor was so out there that he made sense.

Classical mythology- Very interesting.

Senior Art Seminar

Math Senior Seminar

Classes? I don't remember any of my classes...

Poetry Workshop - Poetry Posse Forever!

Revolutionary America- Professor Watters Rules!

What was your most embarrassing moment at AC?

Getting staples in my head.
Tripping up on stage in front of everyone.
Falling down in a pothole in 6-men.
Laughing loudly in Taylor at a boy my friend was trying to impress.
Slipping on ice my junior year and falling backwards into a tree. Then finding out I broke my palm pilot, while a stupid freshman laughed at me.
Falling on ice in front of Maison freshman year.
Too many to count!
Falling out of my chair.
Slipping on ice.
Walking into a tree.

Do you wish we could stay here forever?

I love most of the people, but I could live without the high school attitudes.
No, I am ready to get out.
Wait... You mean I can't stay here after I graduate?
A month ago, I would have said "Get me out of here," but now I wish I could stay here forever.
I don't want to go out into the real world!
I wish some things would stay the same, but I'm looking forward to graduating and starting a new life for myself.
I love it, but it's about time to move on.
No, I'm ready to move on and not have homework.
Yes! I don't want to leave.
I would stay if it paid better.
No! Get me out of here!

Daughter-Child-Woman
Angel of the heart, You are the strength of the future, and the beauty of past memories. You are Love and Light and Hope.
You are life's sweetest gift; An unspeakable and precious joy!

Congratulations College Graduate
Our eternal Love, Mom and Dad

Nicholas Bernier

Nick,
Congratulations on all that you have accomplished in your college career. I am very proud of you keeping your focus during your freshman year when times were very difficult. I know that mom is smiling down from Heaven as proud as could be. Great job. Love you always,
Dad

Josh Boyle

Josh, you've given me so much joy and most importantly the reward of being a Mom. You bring a smile to my face, yesterday, today, and always, for that I will be forever grateful. You are the joy of my life. In these four years, you have become independent, made great friendships, gained knowledge and experienced life to the fullest and have grown to become a wonderful young man. Continue that path as you graduate; it is the route to happiness. Josh, our wish for you is that you pursue all your dreams and find happiness in what you do. You've made us proud beyond words. Be happy, for then our smiles will remain forever. Thank you for being a wonderful son!

Robert Brawders

You will always be the center

Carrie Brown

Carrie,
Our sweet girl, where have the years gone? It seems like yesterday when we first held you in our arms and we knew then that you were special. May all your dreams come true. We are so proud of you!

Love, Mom, Dad, Jim, Erik

Meghan Burbury

Dearest Meghan,
Four years ago we all started a journey. Your days at Assumption are over, but they have left a mark on your soul that time will never sweep away. You have earned a distinction that not all who begin the journey can fully appreciate. You have a college degree, and regardless of the twists and turns your future may take, that will always be yours, and yours alone. We love you and always will. Just remember this: don't worry about the things you can't control. The only thing you can control is you.

Love always, Mom, Dad and Devon.

Audra Leigh Cardarelli

Audra,
It seems like yesterday that we said goodbye in the gym at A.C. We know how hard you've worked these four years and we're extremely proud of you. As you enter the workforce, we wish you much happiness and success in International Business.

Love, Mom & Dad

Nick Carlin

Dear Nick,
Congratulations on a job well done! As each day begins anew be prepared for the challenge, be strong in your spirit, and be grateful for life's daily gifts. You have made us so proud.

With our deepest love,
Dad & Mom

Kim Chronchio

Kim (still my baby-girl): Yesterday?
Kindergarden! Today? College!
Tomorrow? The unknown! Now is the time to take all your "childhood dreams" and make them happen. All your dedication, loyalty, compassion, tears, laughter, disappointments have made you the wonderful person you have become! I have been blessed and I have been proud, and now it is the world's turn to see what I have had all these years with you! Congratulations Kim! I'm once again crying and once again proud! Love, Mom

Kristina England, Editor-In-Chief

I would like to thank everyone on yearbook first. This whole book would not be possible without any of you guys. A special thanks to Renee and Wendy for your dedication. And thanks to Lauren for slaving over the yearbook this whole year. Thanks Joe and Carmella. You have been great advisors and wonderful friends. Assumption College would not be what it is without you.

Thanks to all my friends. Leanne, Malia, Margaret, Liz, Sara, all the Provoc girls, Jon, etc. Caitlin (aka Trouble, aka Jane Doe), when I left Regis, you stuck by me. You're my best friend. Mary B. You're the best! Chung, the world would not be the same without you. Angel, we've been everywhere, even Canada. You're a sister to me. Clem, Jo Jo, Alex, and Carlos, don't stay in the Phillipines too long. We've got more trips to take (especially Germany 2005). Sean, you've been a great friend and thanks for making my sister so happy.

To my family (Mom, Dad, and Jyll), thank you for all sticking by me everytime I did something spontaneous. Thank you for believing in me as a daughter, a sister, and as a writer. I love you.

Congratulations to the Class of 2003 and good luck wherever you may go!

CONGRATUALIONS CLASS OF 2003 !!!!!

Thank you to everyone on the yearbook staff, you all put in so much of your time and effort and it was greatly appreciated => Yearbook Rocks!!!! Thank you to my roommates: direct roommate - three years of living with you and I still would do it again- that's love, I'll miss living with you next year. Doll- from high school graduation to college graduation I can't think of anyone else I would have rather spent all those years with. Congrats again and go us => Kitty, I am so happy I found you in my Chemistry class freshman year. Thank you for all the support you have given me. I will miss living with you => Justine and Heather I am glad I got the chance to live with you two. I hope you had as much fun as I did. Goodluck next year and continue to have fun => To Justin- from a quick introduction in high school to actually getting to know you better in college, I am glad we became friends and I can't thank you enough for everything you have done for me. To Christine T, Liz B. Jen P., Jordan G, Liz and Liz, Renee, Kristina, Wendy, Margaret, Nicole, Heather, North 205, Town House 17 - Thanks for all the good times - You all rock!!!! To Micki and Carlos and the whole Baltimore gang, I'll miss you and thanks for the good times. To my cutie, Nicholas, I can't tell you enough how much you mean to me and how much you have helped and supported me when I needed it most. You made the past five years of my life unforgettable, thank so much for everything and I love you. Lastly, thank you to my family, mom, dad, Dan, and Chris and to my extended family I love all of you so much and I really would not be where I am today without your help, support, and love thank you all for everything.

Love, Lauren =>

Renee Salvas, Business Manager

Wow. I can't believe it's over. Just yesterday I feel like I moved into college and, in the blink of an eye, my journey ended. My thanks go out to all my friends and family who made college possible for me. Without all of your support and friendship I would still be a shy, worried girl. Instead, each of you helped me mature, become independent, and see the beauty of the people and world around me. Thanks to Elizabeth, Margaret, and Liz for being there these past four years. I'm so lucky to have found such great friends as you! Thanks to Jenn for understanding that Math is cool and that Math people aren't crazy. I couldn't have survived it without you, qed. Mom and Dad, thanks for pushing me to go away for school. I appreciate all the support you gave me. Chad, thanks for all the happiness you bring me. I'm lucky for having found you. Thanks to Wendy for helping with yearbook and keeping me on track. You helped senior year to go by smoothly. And finally, thanks to everyone else. Even though I didn't mention you doesn't mean you weren't special to me. You all made a profound difference in my life. Thanks to everyone for putting up with me and my randomness!

I love you all - Renee

Wendy Cook, Business Manager

Over the last four years here we have all matured, learned, and experienced so much. There are many people I wish to thank for everything they have done to help me develop into the person I am today.

Thanks to my roommates LG, JM, JA, JH, CL for all the fun and laughs we had over the last few years. Thanks to all the Math majors (especially RS and JS) and all the Education Concentrators for making our classes and student teaching such wonderful experiences. Thanks to Eric for all the love you have given me and all you have done to keep me sane over the last four years. And most importantly thanks to my family for all the love and support. We have been through a lot, yet we have grown so much closer. I love you all!

CONGRATULATIONS CLASS OF 2003!
